Leota Professional Resources LLC, dba LPR International (LPRI) is a Workforce Management Services company providing strategic support for organizational operations. We help our customers manage people and projects by creating tailored solutions. Our customized solutions are created by our well qualified and experienced professionals and strategic partners, supported by our project management office that is adept at managing people and processes. We are an experienced Federal Government contractor providing support to Federal Government contracts as a prime in the US and the UK.

Powering the World of Innovative Workforce Solutions

LPR has been providing patient-centered primary care and medical staffing services to the Federal Government and commercial customers since 2012. LPR helps its customers manage projects and people.

Our customer centric, employee friendly approach focuses on people, whether customer or employee.

We also take pride in our ability to mobilize the right people with the right skills to enhance organizational performance. We recruit, staff, and manage the personnel.

Strategic Advantage

Our experience includes recruiting healthcare talent throughout the US for our customers including remote locations such as Fort Leonard Wood, MO, Fort Hunter Liggett, CA, and locally in the DC Metro area and throughout the East coast. Our recruiting strength is demonstrated further by our ability to recruit healthcare workers for our US client with contracts in Germany. In addition, we recruit, staff, and manage our own contracts in the UK for non-healthcare teams.

About Us
